NEWLY FOUND S. AMERICAN RACE KILL OFF AGED, HE SAYS

British Explorer Tells Of Odd Customs

VICTIMS CHEERY

Official Sees That Funeral Dates Are Observed

(Reuter's Service)

Boston, Mass., Feb. 28.—High in the fastnesses of the Andes mountains of Peru there lives a race which sets an age limit and kills off all of its people who reach the fateful mark.

This is the statement of Dr. Joseph Baroroft, British scientist and author, who headed an expedition to Peru to study the effect of high altitudes on the oxygen content of the blood. The party spent practically all its time at Cerro de Pasco, a mining town of 10,000 inhabitants, 14,200 feet above the sea level.

"In each village," said Dr. Barocroft who is delivering a series of lectures at Lowell Institute, "an official is appointed to terminate the careers of persons who live too long.

"Different communities, however, seem to have different ideas as to what limit should be placed on human existence. In some places the only duty of the executioner appears to be to secure the presence of a man at his own funeral in the title role! If a person becomes so ill that his funeral become a certainty in the near future, a date is fixed for the same and if the leading figure shows a disposition to be unpunctual, the village executioner takes the matter in hand.

"Not far from a mine that yields a great part of the world's vanadium, there is, so we are told a settlement of 'Cholos' (the name by which the natives are designated) who treat this matter on purely economic and unsentimental grounds. When one of the inhabitants becomes too old he is eaten by the community and cheerfully acquiesces in the procedures.

Dr. Baroroft is a fellow and lecturer at King's College, Cambridge University, fellow of the Royal Society and the author of a widely used text on "The Respiratory Function of the Blood."

The Andes natives studied by the party of investigators are of Indian descent, possibly from the Quichua Indians according to one of the scientists. They live in adobe hovels and are said never to remove their clothing. The household furnishings are so meagre that the housewife puts them into a sack and carries them with her every time she goes shopping or visiting.

The natives are very shy and appear to have no diversions aside from chewing coca leaves, from which modern scientists extract cocaine.

The extremely high altitudes at which they live seem not to affect the natives except to furnish them with a barrel like formation of the chest. They are very strong, but move slowly.

Ceylon Greets Prince Of Wales

(Reuter's Service)

Kandy, March 23—Reuter's Special Correspondent with the Prince of Wales telegraphs:

The Prince of Wales had a wonderful journey here from Colombo. This morning the entire population of the district for 15 miles on each side of the railway gathered on the way to the station to see His Royal Highness' special train pass.

It was like the popular demonstration which greeted him in Australia and Canada.

There were solid masses of Ceylonese in deep rows on every station platform and on the banks, rocks and trees between them. They went to extraordinary pains to decorate the Prince's 70 mile route from the coast and even single mud huts displayed the Union Jack. Every tiny village under the palms showed its loyalty with bamboo arches or garlands strung between the trees.

Says A Good Wife Should Be A Flirt

Mrs Juanita Hughes

"A WIFE is worth while only when other men want her. She should, therefore, make herself attractive and be flirtatious, so that other men will hang around her like moths about a flame."

That's the philosophy of Morris E. Hughes, Pasadena clubman, according to his wife, Hughes insisted, asserts his wife, that she keep at least ten men "on the string." It was his "bullheadedness" that broke up their home, she further declares.

DR. J. W. JAMIESON MAY BE CHOSEN BRITISH CONSUL

Mr. H. H. Goffe Also Mentioned As Probable Successor To Sir Everard Fraser

Pending the appointment of a successor to fill the place left vacant by the death of Sir Everard Fraser, Mr. C. F. Garsun has been named acting Consul-General for Great Britain. The appointment will be made by the British Foreign Office on recommendation of Sir Beilby Alston, British Minister.

Two men are prominently mentioned for the post here—Dr. J. W. Jamieson, now British Consul-General at Canton, who served in Shanghai while Sir Everard Fraser was on leave and whose excellent work in connection with the settlement of the Hongkong strike brought him into prominence, is considered a likely appointee.

H. H. Goffe, Consul-General at Hankow, is also mentioned as a possible successor to Sir Everard Fraser. It will be remembered that Sir Everard came to Shanghai from Hankow.

Another change in the Consulate staff caused by the death of the Consul-General is the appointment of Assistant Consul J. F. Brenan to Acting Consul, taking Mr. Garstin's place.

JEWEL ROBBERY SUSPECT IS HELD BY FRENCH POLICE

A. Kikoin, said to be a Russian citizen, is being held for trial in the French Mixed Court on a charge that he is implicated in a recent jewel robbery which took place at the Kajee Hotel, and in which gems said to be worth about $10,000 were stolen from a room.

Gurch Guter, who was arrested with Kikoin when the pair attempted to have a detective arrested while the latter was shadowing them, has been released.

It was said today that Kikoin had taken out his first American naturalisation papers but he is not recognised by the American authorities and therefore will face the charges in the French Mixed Court.

London, March 23.—In consequence of the opinion expressed by an Ulster member of the House of Commons that the penalties for the possession of bombs were not sufficiently drastic, the Government has submitted a new clause in the Committee stage of the bill for the restoration of order in Ireland which the House has approved, applying the death penalty for offences connected with bombs.

The Government announced that if the present bill was not sufficient it would propose to extend the death penalty for many other offences, like carrying arms without a permit.

The draft constitution as summarised in THE CHINA PRESS yesterday was adopted at the meeting yesterday after slight alterations. Seventeen delegates attended the meeting.

No Have See, No Can Savvy

Mary Cranston

ACCORDING to the officials of the Chicago Art Institute this young woman has the shapliest legs and feet in the United States, and as evidence of their enthusiasm they have made a cast of her unperpinning which they have added to the Institute's permanent exhibits. It is not difficult to see why Chicago judges should enthuse over these specimens, since it is a well known fact that a pair of pretty legs in Chicago is like a single drop of water in the middle of a large, arid desert. Out here in Shanghai we have both keener perceptions and an infinitely better assortment to choose from, Miss Cranston's might get by in Chicago, but from this distance, and judging by Shanghai standards, they look a trifle thick.

FLEMING COMING BACK; FESSENDEN ARRIVING TODAY

Outcome Of Cases Involving U. S. Court For China Eagerly Awaited

(China Press Service)

Vancouver, B. C., March 23.—Attorney W. S. Fleming, American lawyer of Shanghai, who preferred charges in Washington against Judge Charles Sumner Lobingier of the United States Court for China, sailed for his home today on the Canadian Pacific Steamship liner Empress of Russia. He refused to give a statement to newspaper men here.

No intimation has yet been received in Shanghai of what the outcome will be of two highly important cases in which Mr. Fleming actively is involved and which occasioned his trip to the United States.

One of these cases is Mr. Fleming's appeal to the Ninth District U. S. Court of Appeals of California from a sentence of six months imprisonment imposed on him for contempt of court by Judge C. S. Lobingier. The other case involves charges that Mr. Fleming made against Judge Lobingier to the State Department at Washington and which were heard some weeks ago.

Mr. Sterling Fessenden, dean of the American bar in Shanghai, who went to Washington to attend the hearing of the charges against Judge Lobingier, according to report, is returning to Shanghai today on the steamer Hoosier State, which is expected to dock at the China Merchants Central Wharf this afternoon.

Judge Lobingier, Mr. Fleming and Mr. Fessenden all went to the United States last August shortly after the sensational hearing in which Mr. Fleming was defendant was called for hearing in the United States Court for China and was interrupted by the contempt proceedings.

HUGHES AND HARDING IN HOT DENIALS OF INTRIGUE

Secretary Wants Aspersions To Cease

STRONG LETTER

Borah Sticks To His Story Of "Understanding"

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 24.—Telegrams from Washington indicate that Senator Borah does not appear to have helped the cause or strengthened the opposition to the Pacific Treaty by his suggestion of a secret Anglo American alliance.

Regardless of Party, the press universally condemns Senator Borah, who, however, is credited with the intention before the vote is taken of moving that his charges should be investigated by the Foreign Relations Committee. The newspapers predict that this would produce an interesting position because the Republicans undoubtedly would oppose the motion, thus determining a few Republicans who are sitting on the fence to vote against the Treaty as long as the slightest doubt exists respecting a secret alliance.

If this course should also be taken by three among the present half-hearted pro-Treaty Democrats the Treaty would most probably be defeated but little time exists for propaganda to this end owing to the propinquity of the conclusion of the debate.

DEBATE ENDS

Washington, March 24.—The Senate yesterday evening concluded the debate on the Pacific Treaty and are prepared for the final vote today, with the leaders on both sides privately agreeing that ratification by a narrow margin seemed certain.

A display of oratorical fireworks scarcely surpassed even by that at Versailles brought the debate to an end. The ratification majority is estimated at from three to ten, depending on how many Senators will join the majority once they see that the Administration leaders are sure of the necessary two-thirds.

(China Press Service)

Washington, March 23.—Secretary Hughes has issued an open letter to Senator Lodge flatly denying the charges, made in the Senate yesterday, that a secret understanding regarding future action in the Pacific had been arranged by Great Britain and the United States during the disarmament Conference.

Mr. Hughes said he hoped to see no further aspersions upon the honor or veracity of the American delegates to that conference.

The letter precipitated a new and warm debate which was not lessened by the statement from the White House that the Government had entered into no secret agreements whatsoever during the Conference.

HARDING'S MESSAGE

President Harding's message further said:

"The charge that secret agreements were made is outrageous. It is unthinkable and inconceivable that this Government should invite Japan to a Conference and then make secret agreements antagonistic to her."

Senator Borah stuck to his guns and declared that the New York attorney who claimed to have talked to all the delegates had stated that a secret agreement certainly had been put through between Britain and the United States. This was to provide for the combination of the American and British fleets in the Pacific in the event of any necessity arising whereby they need dominate Japan.

ORATORY LOOSENED

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, March 23.—Owing to the threatened interminable debate on the Four-Power Treaty the Senate has decided to limit individual speeches to one hour.

Before the limit was imposed a flood of speeches was let loose by Senators who had prepared long addresses. They jostled one another to obtain a hearing.

Senator La Follette bitterly assailed the Treaty, declaring it simply an extension of the Anglo-Japanese alliance and moreover, it bound the United States to support all British and Japanese claims in the Pacific.

Woman "Solomon" To Decide Rival Claims Of Motherhood

JUDGE Katheryn Sellers, of Washington, is cast in the role of a modern "King Solomon." She must decide which of two women is the mother of a seven-months-old baby. Mrs. Maria Antonio Matteo, penniless, despondent and deserted by her husband, declares she left the baby after birth in the care of Mrs. Etta Peck, a wealthy resident of a Washington suburb. Mrs. Peck said she put the baby Mrs. Matteo left with her in the care of another woman and that later she became the mother of the child which is now disputed. Mrs. Matteo calls the child "Dormato." Mrs. Peck refers to him as "My David."

Old Educational System Spelled Unity For China

By Elsie McCormick

As we were engaged in remarking when the paper went to press yesterday, China is not the right soil for a Western republic to grow on. The new government is planted only in the shallow soil of foreign imitation; it has run no roots as yet into the country's spiritual resources which nourished the imperial system for thousands of years.

This doesn't mean, however, that China is not essentially democratic. The houseboy, we admit, objects strenuously to doing anything that savors of coolie pidgin, and the old-fashioned scholar never lifted an object heavier than an inked brush. But the point is that under the old regime, the coolie, if he studied, might pass the literary examinations, become a scholar, and receive a government appointment with no questions asked about his previous occupation. From the date of the earliest dynasties, China's aristocracy has been based on scholarship, a classification that is about a geological epoch ahead of the family and money standards that serve as measuring sticks in the West.

There is the story of an enterprising chair-coolie who studied at night, took the examinations, and then went back to the work of carrying travelers over the hills and between the rice-paddies. One day as he was passing through a village with the bamboo shafts on his shoulders, the imperial courier arrived with the list of the successful candidates. The coolie's name, like Abou Ben Adhem's, led all the rest, but he gamely insisted on carrying his passenger through to his destination. Many other scholars of China have come from the mud-huts of coolie-dom. Confucius, though of somewhat higher status was referred to in the writing of a contemporary as "one of the cotton-clad masses." In many a ramshackle, pig-infested village of Kwantung we saw, set up before the ancestral hall, white stone shafts dedicated to scholars of the town who had distinguished themselves in the tests at Peking.

EXAMS BOND OF UNITY

These literary examinations, it happens, ranked next to the religious aspects of the imperial system in serving as a means of unification for China. Students went to Peking from Kwantung, from Szechuen, from Yunnan, from Manchuria, from even those remote cities near the Jade Gate that leads out into Central Asia. When the names of those who were to take the final tests were made known, excitement broke from one end of China to the other. Bets were placed in every teahouse of the Empire, and when the imperial runners arrived at last, bearing the names of the successful candidates, the crowds that stormed the yamen resembled the mobs that assemble around bulletin-boards at home on the night of a presidential election.

It is unfortunate for the unity of the Republic that this system has been given up. We do not mean, of course, that enlightened China should shut candidates up in stone vaults and require them to write Confucian essays. The kind of learning demanded in the examinations had its cultural and ethical value, but its bearing on practical problems of government was less than that of the most narrow of classical courses at home. If, however, the Republic had been able to change the nature of the tests, while keeping all the old spirit of competition and the nation-wide interest aroused by the examinations, it would have accomplished something invaluable to its future. All parts of China would feel a unity of interest, the names of future public officials and their intellectual rating would be known throughout the country, and China's valuable emphasis on scholarship as the basis of social standing would be reiterated. The old examination system might have become a glorified civil service of a type unknown in any other country of the world and full of good results for the Republic of China.

It may be too late to pour the new wine of modern education into the old bottles of the abolished systems. We have noticed that up-to-date Chinese are very reluctant to show foreigners the remains of the examination halls in Nanking, as they seem to be ashamed of the old methods and to fear the ridicule of the West. The famous halls of Peking have vanished entirely, having been carried off piece by piece by energetic contractors in need of building materials. Unfortunately modern Chinese confuse the admittedly barbarous conditions under which the tests were taken with the whole idea of national competitive examinations. The halls deserved to be torn down, but the idea didn't.

INTELLECT STILL REVERED

China's emphasis on intellect as the standard of social measurement is fortunately still in evidence. Villages of Kwantung no longer erect pillars in honor of their scholars, but

Mr. J.C. Hutchison, British Assessor, Is Leaving Today

Mr. J. C. Hutchison, Junior British Assessor of the Mixed Court, is sailing today for England on a year's leave after a long period of service in the Mixed Court. He is to be succeeded as Junior British Assessor by Mr. E. W. Mead, who recently arrived from England.

Many police inspectors, sergeants and detectives who have handled cases before Mr. Hutchison, and the various Chinese Magistrates who have taken turns officiating with him bade him goodbye yesterday when he finished his last case on the morning's calendar. Mr. Hutchison made many friends in the Court because of his quick, efficient work, and because of the inherent justice he exhibited in many cases before the court which called for extremely careful handling, tact, and common sense as well as an intelligent conception of law and the duties of an Assessor.

HUNAN DEMANDS EVACUATION OF CHIHLI TROOPS

Public Bodies Ask Withdrawal Of Wu Pei-fu's Forces To Avoid Ravage

The withdrawal of all Chihli troops from Hunan is demanded in a telegram filed with Inspector-General Wu Pei-fu and Tuchun Hsiao Yao-nan of Hupeh by the public bodies of Hunan, according to the Dah Tong News Bureau. The message states that the local organisations have already asked Dr. Sun Yat-sen and General Chen Chiung-ming to refrain from entering Hunan in their punitive expedition. But if Chihli troops are allowed in Yochow, the Southern forces would certainly not consent to the arrangement whereby the province may be exempt from military ravage.

Lu Yung-ting, formerly bandit Tuchun of Kwangsi, is entering Kwangsi by way of French Indo-China, after securing some financial assistance from Wu Pei-fu, it is reported. He will join hands with the bandits in Kwangsi and Tang Chi-yao of Yunnan and Yuan Tsu-ming of Kweichow to hinder the progress of the punitive expedition of Dr. Sun.

Acting under order of Dr. Sun, General Li Fu-ling and his division is advancing upon Chiangchow, Hunan.

BRITISH ENVOY MAKING DIRECT DEMAND ON WU

Mr. S. Barton Despatched To Loyang To Get Back Seized Salt Revenue

Because of the failure of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to deal effectively with Wu Pei-fu's seizure of the salt revenue at Hotung, the British Legation in Peking, it is reported, has despatched Mr. S. Barton, Chinese Secretary of Legation, to proceed to Loyang and make a demand on the Hupeh warlord for the return of the fund.

General Wu seized the sum of $200,000 which was being sent to Peking by the Salt Gabelle in Hotung early this year. In spite of repeated protests by the Diplomatic Corps as well as by individual legations having interest in the salt administration, Wu has refused to return the money.

The Hankow-Peking Railway complains that General Wu has converted over three million dollars of the traffic receipts to his own use.

Rioting Continues In Egyptian Cities

(Reuter's Service)

Cairo, March 22.—A grave feature of yesterday's continued demonstration was the failure of the Egyptian troops to make any serious efforts to disperse the hooligans who, heartened by the attitude of the troops, subjected to indignities and sometimes severely belabored prominent men from the provinces who had been attending the King's levee.

Ultimately, it was found necessary to summon mounted native police, a handful of whom speedily cleared the thoroughfare.

It is understood that a court of enquiry has been ordered.

Alexandria, March 22.—In the course of a demonstration here a crowd attempted to enter the Mochamed Ali Square for the purpose of destroying the decoration in honor of Independence Day. Three hundred arrests were made. Three policemen were injured.

British Geologist Soon To Explore S. Western China

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 24.—Mr. John Walter Gregory, Professor of Geology at the University of Glasgow, is shortly setting out on an expedition to South-Western China.

He explains in the Daily Chronicle that apart from collecting zoological and botanical material his object will be to throw light on the climatic changes which control the migrations of animal and plant life. He desires especially to seek a solution to the conflicting theories regarding the relations of the Himlayan and Indo-Malayan mountain systems; in the first place that the Himalayan line continues across South-Western China to North-Eastern Asia, and in the second place that the eastward continuation of the Himalayan mountains is blocked by a solid mountain mass in South-Western China, and is deflected through Western Burma and Sumatra, thence eastward along the southern margin of the Eastern Archipelago.

SUGGESTING A SECOND ACCOUNT

The old idea in business was to get trade from your competitors—the new plan is to develop unrealized opportunities. The progressive bank of today depends for much of its growth on the improved financial habits of the public. It seeks to induce people who have NEVER saved money to COMMENCE saving it, and to persuade those who previously have saved a LITTLE to save even MORE.

So even if you already have one account, we suggest the wisdom of opening a second account with us either for savings or for some other special purposes.

CANTON LEADER MURDERED WHILE WELCOMING WU

Teng Heng Dies Of Wounds Inflicted By Assassin At R. R. Station

(China Press Correspondence)

Canton, March 24.—General Teng Heng, Aide-de-Camp of General Chen Chiung-ming, died Wednesday night of wounds he received at the Canton-Kowloon Station while welcoming Dr. C. C. Wu, Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Canton Administration, who was returning from Mukden. Funeral services took place yesterday here amid great pomp.

The assassin, believed to be sent to the railway station by a political bureau in Hongkong under the direction of former Governor Yang Wing-tai of Kwangtung, made good his escape. Reports from secret service men state that the assassin followed Dr. C. C. Wu from Hongkong to Canton in the same train. The bureau in Hongkong, they say, has been organised by the Kwangsi and Chihli factions mainly for the purpose of carrying out plots against prominent Cantonese leaders in order to delay the punitive expedition against the North.

nevertheless the student class here has an influence in public affairs far beyond that possessed by students of the West. In America at least, the college student is regarded with mild and amused indulgence. The only place where he can collect a large audience is in the bleachers of the football field, and if he is interviewed, it is usually on the subject of whether or not co-eds are kissable, or some topic of equal weight. In China, university students have had no small effect on national policies. Through their demonstrations they have strongly affected public opinion, and the highest officials of the government take them seriously enough to discuss with their committees matters of grave national importance. The judgment of the students is not always good, but the amount of their influence shows that the intellectual class is still holding its own. China has thus far escaped being inflicted with anything corresponding to the narikens of Japan, a newly-rich group who are attempting to push themselves to the top of the national ladder by sheer force of wealth. The nation has its rich men, of course, but they still must have something besides money to command much real deference. At present the greatest danger lies in the ascendancy of the military clique and the amount of prestige in the hands of the hitherto despised soldier class.

Someday, when the tuchuns have ceased troubling and the bandits are at rest, China may realise again the unifying value of a civil service based in principle at least on the olden system—a mystery which should have been reformed, but not discarded.

Korean Provisional President Elected

A new president for the Korean Provisional Government has been elected in Shanghai, according to the Shanghai Nichi Nichi. He is Mr. Li Lieu-kwei who made a desperate effort at the Washington Disarmament Conference to secure recognition for the Korean Republic that it might have a voice at the sessions.

Following his failure in the American capital, Li went to Tokio to plead for the withdrawal of Japanese forces from the hermit kingdom, which request met with a similar fate. He came to Shanghai recently and the local Koreans promptly elected him the chief executive of their government, with headquarters in Shanghai.

It is understood that the Canton Government has already given recognition to the Korean Republic and will treat it as an independent state hereafter. A representative named An Wen-yuan recently concluded arrangements with the Southern administration.

BRITISH AIRMAN TO TOUCH JAPAN IN WORLD FLIGHT

Sir Ross Smith Due In Tokio First Week In May

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, March 18.—Information has been received that Sir Ross Macpherson Smith, K.B.E., the well-known airman who in 1919 successfully accomplished the first long distance flight between Great Britain and Australia, and who has a distinguished war record, is probably arriving in Japan in the first week in May.

Flying in a single-engined Vickers "Amphibian," a flying boat fitted with wheels that enable it to land on the grounds as well as on water, Sir Ross Smith will touch Japan on his round the world flight.

It is expected that his route will take him from the Kurile to the Aleutian Islands, in which case, with the exception of his flight across the Atlantic, the aviator will not have to make an over-sea journey of more than one thousand miles.

An alternative route across the Pacific is via Easter Island in the Southern part of the ocean. This would involve a longer flight but the journey could probably be made under more favorable weather conditions.

Tokio, March 18.—A new type of flying boat, of exceedingly smart fish-like appearance, is now afloat and undergoing trials on Lake Kasumigaura. This machine is fitted with a two hundred and thirty horse power Siddeley "Puma" engine, and is designed especially for cross-channel work.

JAPANESE PLAN 3,500-MILE AIR JOURNEY SOON

Fliers To Greet Prince Of Wales On His Arrival

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, March 18.—According to reliable statements, a long-distance flight by members of the Japanese Naval Air Service is under contemplation. It is proposed that a formation of three F5 type of flying boats fitted with two Rolls Royce twelve cylinder engines should proceed to Kagoshima by four stages (1) Waka-no-Ura, (2) Kure, (3) Sasebo, (4) Kagoshima and return direct by the Shikoku route.

Leaving on April 1, the aviators are expected to time their arrival in the neighborhood of Kagoshima in order to be able to greet His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales as soon as the Renown reaches Japanese waters.

If this flight is successfully accomplished, the distance that will be covered is calculated at about three thousand five hundred (3,500) miles, which is considerably more than a trans-Atlantic flight.

It is stated that Lieutenant Commander Brackley, D.S.C., D.F.C., a member of the British Aviation Mission now engaged at the Kasumigaura Aerodrome, will be in command of the formation. Each of the three machines will carry a Japanese pilot, a Japanese navigator, and a crew of three men in addition.

Numerous spare parts for the machines have, it is understood, been sent to various alighting stations on route, and destroyers will patrol the routes to be ready in case of need.

Veterans' Bonus Bill Passes House

(China Press Service)

Washington, March 23.—The House passed the Bonus Bill by an overwhelming majority. The bill now goes to the Senate where the result is regarded as uncertain.

Democratic leaders in Congress launched an unsuccessful fight against what is termed the "gag" rule when the Republicans presented a resolution to pass the $4,000,000,000 Soldiers Bonus Bill under the suspension of rules.

The adoption of the resolution was to make certain the passage of the bill by the House before adjournment. The resolution vote was 221 to 211.

HIGH RICE PRICE MAY RESULT IN LABOR TROUBLE

Cargo Coolies Threaten To Quit April 1 If Pay Is Not Increased

Due to abnormally high prices of rice indications that serious labor trouble may be in store for Shanghai in the near future are to be seen in a number of lesser strikes that have developed in various industries.

Following a meeting of about 300 cargo coolies employed by Butterfield and Swire the workers addressed a letter to the company threatening to walk out on April 1 if demands for increased pay are not granted.

The cargo coolies assert that coolies employed by Jardine Matheson and Company, the China Merchants and Kaiping to do the same work have received wage increases while they have been working for the same money despite the upward trend of rice prices. In their letter to the company, published by Sin Wan Pao, the coolies assert their present wages of 340 cash for a half days work and 680 cash for a full day is not sufficient to buy the three sing of rice they need daily.

Thursday also 200 joss paper workers held a meeting in the Chinese city and decided to quit work unless their present wage scale of 1,640 cash for 1,000 sheets of joss paper was changed to $1.64 Mex.

Comb makers, who struck several days ago for wage increases, are still on strike, and a strike of women workers in a silk filature on Wuchow Road is also still in progress. In all cases the workers assert that they are unable to buy sufficient rice to live on their present wages. The price of rice, which has been going up due to small quantities entering the Shanghai market, and militarists buying up large amounts for their spring campaigns, now ranges from $10.40 to $12.40 per picul depending upon the quality.

BASEBALL NINE PLANS SEASON'S FIRST GAMES

Information has come to hand that several large U. S. Navy boats are due to visit Shanghai during the coming baseball season and it is possible that one or two may stay in port for a considerable length of time. The boats expected are the Buffalo, Huron, Rainbow, Sacramento, Wilmington, and the Nashville, and possibly the Albany and New Orleans. All these boats are reputed to have ball teams of excellent calibre and Shanghai fans will probably see more baseball games this year than ever before.

With teams from the above boats available, and also with series likely to be arranged with teams from North China, the local players will have one grand opportunity this year to display their wares. Any navy boat carrying large crews such as the above mentioned will have, are bound to produce first class teams. The 15th Infantry team in Tientsin will be a strong aggregation and the Marines in [illegible] are expect to have a team capable of meeting and beating all comers.

The 15th Infantry have already written to Manager Herby Gallop for a series to be played sometime during the early month of June, and there is every prospect of this series coming off, as the Infantry baseball team expects to pass through Shanghai in June on their way to Manila. The Infantry team is practically the same as last year's, though they are reported to have several new men, who are fine ball players. They expect to have a heavy hitting aggregation.

The local team will probably start practice in April, weather permitting and will start the season by playing games with local School teams.

According to Herby Gallop prospects are bright for plenty of good games and he is making every effort to arrange a program that will keep the fans busy from the end of April on.

French Get Sole Try Near End Of Time But Fail To Convert

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, March 23.—Wales beat France by 11 points to 3 in a rugby football match played here today. The match was played in exceptionally fine weather before an attendance estimated at 35,000.

In the first half the match was a scrambling game, both sides making strenuous efforts. Forward rushes did not avail against the good defences although both sides were within an ace of scoring. The French forwards quite held their own but their three-quarters lacked cohesion. At half time neither side had scored.

On the resumption of play, Cummings scored a try which however was not converted. Then a tremendous Welsh forward rush resulted in Bowen securing another try which was also not converted. Shortly after Islwyn-Evans dashed from midfield and secured a try which was easily converted. It was only towards the end that the French three-quarters found their game and made a brilliant combined movement enabling Jaurreguy to get over the line for a try which however he failed to convert.

Wales thus win the International Championship.

Oriental Cotton Spinning & Weaving Co.

A final dividend of Tls. 0.50 was endorsed for payment by the Oriental Cotton Spinning and Weaving Company, Ltd., at the annual general meeting, held yesterday afternoon at the offices of the general managers, Messrs. Arnhold Bros. & Co., Ltd., 6 Kiukiang Road.

The chair was occupied by Mr. C. H. Arnhold and there were present Messrs. W. A. Argent, C. R. Burkill and A. J. Welch, directors, and a number of shareholders.

Following the reading of the notice convening the meeting the chairman said:

"Gentlemen: Before proceeding with the business of the meeting, I should like to refer to the great loss that this company, in common with many other local institutions, has suffered through the untimely death of our colleague on the Board, the late Mr. W. S. Jackson. He always evinced the very greatest interest in the company's concerns, and his valued advice and sound business instinct will be sadly missed.

"The directors' raport and accounts having been in your hands for some time, we will, with your permission, follow our usual custom and take them as read.

"In reviewing the year 1921, we can again record a successful year's working, the result showing a balance at the credit of profit and loss account, including the carry forward from 1920 of Tls. 378,791.15. From this must be deducted the interim dividend absorbing Tls. 219,920, leaving for distribution today the amount of Tls. 358,871.15, which your directors recommend be allocated as follows:

	Tls.
To pay a final dividend of Tls.0.50 per share	109,960.00
To General Managers' Commission according to agreement ..	25,608.35
To carry forward to new account	223,302.80
	Tls. 358,871.15

POOR COTTON RECEIPTS

"We had hopes of presenting to you a still better account, and would undoubtedly have been in a position to do so, but for the very poor deliveries of American cotton during the latter half of the year. This cotton was so poor that, in order to keep running, we had to replace by local cotton at very high prices resulting in a loss on the last few months' working. It would, of course, have been possible to draw to some extent on our Cotton Equalisation Fund, but this was not deemed good policy in view of the fact that the results actually achieved permitted of the payment of a dividend of 50 percent on the paid up capital of the company. We hope to recover a part of this loss during the current year, as we have been able to arrange for part of the inferior cotton to be replaced for forward delivery at the same price. Our requirements till the end of July are now covered at an average cost well below today's prices.

"Turning to the accounts you will notice on the asset side additions to Freehold Land and Buildings, amounting to Tls. 128,603.03. The main items covered are our new weaving shed to hold 500 looms, and the completion of the new offices which will be ready for occupation in a few weeks' time. The new godowns mentioned in your Chairman's speech last year have also been completed, and in addition new watchmen's quarters and a new dye house have been erected.

PLANT AND MACHINERY

"The item of Tls. 3,743.56 represents necessary additions to our spinning machinery to bring it up to date. We have also, on the recommendations of the new staff, expended considerably more than has been customary on repairs and renewals. These disbursements have, however, been met out of revenue, and do not appear in the accounts. As a result of these steps, the efficiency of the plant has been materially improved.

"Weaving Plant.—This now stands at Tls. 135,386.24, showing an addition of Tls. 40,960.01. We were at a disadvantage compared with some other mills during the year under review in that our activities were confined to spinning. Two thirds of our looms are now in position, the preparation room may be expected to start work almost immediately, and the department will in a very short time be in full operation and will provide us with an additional source of revenue.

"Turning to the other side of the Balance Sheet, you will find that our Reserve Funds and our Depreciation Fund stand at Tls. 1,000,000 each. Your directors do not think it necessary to make any further provision at present under these headings. The reserves total over 150 percent of the capital, and your plant could not today be replaced at double its book value.

"Bank Overdraft.—This was occasioned mainly by the purchases of local cotton which we had to make towards the end of the year as previously explained. Stocks of yarn at the end of the year were also rather heavy, as deliveries during November and December were very poor. These have, however, materially improved.

COMPETITION INCREASING

"As regards the immediate future, the statistical position would appear to be favorable in that stocks in the interior are reported to be very low, and if we are spared a recurrence of internal strife in China, I venture to predict a satisfactory year.

"As regards the more distant future, while the textile industry in China is undoubtedly capable of great and profitable expansion, the many new mills which are in course of erection must inevitably increase competition. We are, however, I think in a very strong position to meet this and I would call to your attention that without taking into account the very large invisible reserve represented by the land owned by the company, you actually have assets of over Tls. 3,000,000 engaged in the undertaking against the existing capital of Tls. 660,000.

"That, gentlemen, is all I have to say, and before putting the resolutions to the meeting, I shall be pleased to answer any questions which shareholders may wish to ask."

The following resolutions were then passed unanimously:

That the statement of acrounts for the year ended December 31, 1921, as audited, be passed. Proposed by the chairman, seconded by Mr. C. R. Burkill.

That a final dividend of Tls. 0.50 be distributed to shareholders on the register on March 24, 1922. Proposed by Mr. Burkill, seconded by Mr. W. A. Argent.

That Mr. Burkill and Mr. A. J. Welch be elected directors of the company. Proposed by Mr. Argent, seconded by Mr. Wakeford Cox.

That Mr. E. A. Mackay be re-elected auditor to the company at a remuneration of Tls. 1,250. Proposed by Mr. J. Spunt, seconded by Mr. H. B. Ollerdessen

Ball Nets $5,752 For Russian Relief

The combined Committees of the Russian Benevolent Society and the Union of Russian Military Service Men desire to express in connection with their Annual Charity Entertainment held at the Astor House on the 16th of last month, their sincerest thanks to the Management of the Astor House Hotel for the free use of the ballroom, the service and other courtesies; to the Astor House Orchestra for the excellent music supplied; to the newspapers: the North China Daily News, The China Press, The Evening Star and to the Oriental Press Printing Office for granting special reductions on Advertisements and Programs and to all persons who gave their kind assistance in organising and entertaining, or who by their patronage and attendance helped to make the Fancy Dress Ball a thorough success. The total proceeds of the ball amount to $6,238.45, the expenses to $485.72 which leaves a net sum of $5,752.73 to be added to the Charity Funds of the two above mentioned Institutions.

Such most gartifying results could only have been obtained through the sympathetic co-operation of the public for which heartfelt thanks are due.

Tokio Stenogs On "Go Slow" Strike

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Australian Tennis Critic Ranks The World's Leaders

Austral, the Australian lawn tennis expert, makes this world ranking of tennis stars in the Sydney Referee: 1, Tilden; 2, Johnston; 3, Norton, South Africa; 4, Alonso, Spain; 5, Shamidzu, Japan; 6, Williams; 7, Patterson, Australia; 8, Anderson, Australia; 9, Brookes, Australia; 10, Kumagae, Japan; 11, Richards; 12, Kingscote, England; 13, Washburn.

In America this ranking will be questioned. Writers in the United States object, for one thing, to placing Norton third simply because he won the All Comers at Wimbledon and then made a good showing against a careless Tilden. Alonso also seems to be rated too high.

S. V. C. Notes

MACHINE GUN COMPANY

Camp is over, and was immensely successful from every point of view. With the proverbially good weather of the Machine Gunners nothing was lacking, and two days of the most intensive training were put in. From 6 a.m. till 9 p.m. no halt was called, except short ones for meals, but in spite of the fatigue resulting from these long hours in the field spirits were running so high (we will not say freely) that song and story were to be heard far into the night. Of Saturday night, when we were honored with the presence of a few well-chosen guests we will say little—it is a wonderful memory. Monday morning found the Company still cheerful but very, very tired, and many a man thanked his stars for a good bed and long hours in it on Monday night.

Quite a long story could be written about those two days and three nights, but the two outstanding events of interest were the Saunders Cup Competition and the night firing. The former is designed to test the rapidity of Detachments in advancing with Guns and getting into action, and although the old hands said that this year the conditions laid down were too strenuous the Gun teams themselves proved this forecast to be wrong. The teams advanced a total distance of 400 yards and came into action at three different ranges (dismounting wheels each time) all inside 6½ minutes, and the winning team, out of 40 rounds fired, scored 35 hits. To those who know the possibilities and limitations of the present armament this result speaks for itself. Great credit is due to this detachment, particularly the Detachment Commander and the No. 1, Sergeant Mowll and Lance Corporal A. P. Goldman respectively.

As regards the night firing, this was by way of an experiment in Shanghai, but proved a great success, and no part of the training so far has raised so much interest, both inside and outside the Company. The usefulness of Machine Guns being able to change targets by night is obvious, and it is satisfactory to know that with no previous experience of the methods involved the Detachments were able to carry out the practices and find their Targets every time.

Undoubtedly the Camp will live long in the memory of all present, and already there is a desire among many that another shall be held. We are afraid, however, that these ardent souls will have to abide themselves in patience until the Autumn, as many things are required for holding a Camp, not least of which is possession of the ground.

"B" COMPANY, BRITISH

On Tuesday next the Company will combine with the Shanghai Scottish for Company drill on the Race Course, if fine, at 5:45 p.m. Dress: Drill order. A full attendance is called for.

During the coming week end the Unit will be engaged at the Rifle Range. Commencing at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and continuing at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, 26th. Those men who have not yet completed their Recruits and Trained Men's Course will do so at the above times. Details have already appeared in Unit orders. On Sunday the Unit will parade at 9:30 in Drill order with haversacks. Each man will bring his tiffin. The Monthly cups for February and March as well as the Inter Section Competition will be fired on Sunday. All men who have to fire their Course will attend in drill order on Saturday and Sunday.

Spot and forward bar silver were each down ⅛d. in London yesterday.

The New York price declined to 64⅞ cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 433⅜.

The official rates here today were unchanged from yesterday and the market, while opening on the easy side, became steady during the day.

Shortly after the opening Chinese sold Sterling at as high as 3-3⅝ for April-May and Gold Dollars at 72½ for April 72⅝ for May.

As, however, there were good buyers at these rates, the market eased off until as low as 3-3⅜ for April-May was done.

In the afternoon, however, the market again steadied up, Chinese selling a fair amount of Sterling for May delivery at 3s. 3½d. They also sold a good amount of Gold Dollars for April at 72⅝ for May at 72¼.

The market closed steady with sellers of Sterling at 3s.3⅛d. for March-April and 3s. 3¾d. for May-June. There were Gold Dollar sellers at the close at 72⅝ for March and 72¼ for April-May.

America sold a small amount of silver in London yesterday and the market there is reported as being steady.

The New York market is quite, with no business passing.

Japan's Smoke Screen

JAPAN, as expected, proves to be the main string in the opposition to the de jure recognition of the Soviets.

As a pre-Genoa phase the Allied experts in London have decided to ask the Soviets to issue a new series of bonds to pay the Czarist debts, and thus meet the Cannes stipulation. Britain and Italy favor recognition of the Soviets with that understanding. France and Belgium are not so enthusiastic, but will not oppose if the guarantees are forthcoming. Only Japan is the dead weight in the move toward recognition, because "a strengthened Moscow government might be aggressive regarding Siberia, particularly Sakhalien."

It now seems that Japan extends her greed for monopolies in Siberia to include the sole right of showing aggression. The field has been hers exclusively. To trespass on Japan's particular hunting ground, even though it is their own front yard, would perhaps be rated as inconsiderate of the Russians. Japan deserves a certain kind of gratitude from Russia; it is the kind generally meted out to spoilers.

But in this case Japan seems to work behind her usual smoke screen. There is little reason for delaying recognition of the Moscow government. There is none at all for non-recognition of the Far Eastern Republic. If the powers re-admit Russia into the economic pale, then ipso facto Chita will be a government of international rank. And with that event Japan's day of retribution for crimes in Siberia will be at hand.

There will be an end to the club-swinging act at Dairen, where the Japanese military fingers have tightened on the Russian throat. It is a case of yield trade concessions, and dismantle forts, or choke. There will be an end to the looting of Vladivostok, now proceeding so nicely by Japanese hirelings. And there will be an end to the selling of Russian fishing rights by the Japanese government to Japanese fishmongers.

And the most beneficial gain will be the withdrawal of Japan's army. At Washington Japan evacuated Shantung. At Genoa she will evacuate Siberia, unless the old bluff revives in the meantime.

The tide of retribution is on the dikes. The day the gates open will be one of sweet reckoning to all Russians who have not sold their patriotism for a mess of Japanese gold. That's the flood which may be released at Genoa. And that's the very material ghost behind Japan's veto on recognition of the Soviets.

OPENING up Siberia this year promises all the dramatic intensity of Spring in Alaska. About this time of year the sun journeys north to renew the warmth of life after the winter's long night. Thousands of miles of Yukon ice are beginning to stir. The canyon walls release their grip, and the whole mass is sent booming and crashing to the sea. Following the break-up of the ice, prospectors return, mining men, oil men, pioneers. And spring again touches the far north.

Also with Siberia. Syndicates and capital interests are preparing the ground for a rush to concessions the moment political recognition brings the safe guarantee. Siberia needs the industrialists and money. And the world needs Siberian raw materials. The winter of industrial blight has been four years long.

Favorable news has been coming down. The Chita government collected a quarter of a million gold roubles in taxes in January and February, which is more than was turned in during all of 1921. The telegraph lines are beginning to function again, as proved by the message sent from Europe to Peking in twenty minutes. The railroad is repaired, and operating one through passenger train to Europe every week. Daily service is probable by summer.

With the defeat of the Whites, and probable recognition, the Spring in Siberia should indeed be Spring this year. Reconstruction will be slow and painful, but with the curse of Japan removed the Siberian people will come into their own.

The Black Museum

Housed in three small rooms in a basement of Scotland Yard is the famous "Black Museum" of the British police. The museum is available only for police officers and those with a recognised professional interest in criminology. Members of the general public are never admitted.

Here are ropes which have hanged murderers, knives and pistols which have been used in murders, and ranged round the walls are plaster casts of heads of men who have been executed. The folding ladder used by the famous Charles Peace on his burglaring expedit ons is here. It is made of pieces of flat wood turning upon swivel screws. Each successive piece of wood juts out a little beyond its neighbor, so that a succession of steps are formed. At the top is a strong hook for catching on to balustrading, or window sills, and the whole thing folds up and goes easily into a handbag.

There is a medicine chest, containing, among other things, poisoned pills. This was used by Neil Cream, who used to poison his victims by means of poisoned sweets.

There is a "gold" brick, filled with a tube of mercury to make it heavy; 'put' and 'take' tops, so constructed that spun in one way the result is always "put," and in another, the secret way, the resul is always "take." These, latter are at least twenty-five years old Jimmies of all descriptions and blow pipes for opening safes; farthings gilded to make them appear sovereigns; banknotes printed in Germany, which are so perfect that the forgery is almost impossible to detect; opium pipes false coins and many other things are arranged on the shelves.

Among the more interesting exhibits are a contrivance by means of which strong ammonia is squirted into the face of a person preparatory to robbing him; a poisoned cigar which was given to an engine driver, but which, fortunately, broke in his pocket, so saving his life and probably the lives of many members of Parliament traveling on his train. False coal, hollowed out and filled with explosive, and even forged tram and train tickets and a "forged" V. C are here.

Moroccan Beauties

The Duchess de V——, a grand Spanish lady, is serving in a hospital of Melilla, where she is worshipped by the soldiers. Some foreign legionnaires who are called "those without fear and without mercy," to show her their gratitude recently offered her a magnificent basket of roses.

The duchess thanked "los soldados," but in bending down to admire the flowers she uttered a terrible cry and fell into a swoon.

The legionnaires had added to their gift and placed among the roses two heads of Moroccans who had committed atrocious savageries on the Spanish prisoners.

London Press Is Alarmed As Mormons Seek Girl Converts

BY HAROLD E. SCARBOROUGH

Within the past few days several London newspapers have become seriously exercised over the presence of organisers of the Church of Latter Day Saints, or, in more common parlance, Mormons.

"Are our girls to be lured to Utah and polygamy?" they demand in big, black headlines, which are threatening to displace entirely the claims of several sensational murder mysteries to places on the main news page. Now a hue and cry is being raised to have the Home Secretary deport the Mormon evangelists as undesirable aliens, and altogether a furious little tempest is brewing in the proverbial teapot.

Nobody seems to have thought of asking whether any English girls actually have been lured to Utah and the rest of it. The Mormons are here—the wolf is in the fold—and news isn't especially plentiful anyhow.

The Daily Express began the anti-Mormon crusade by revealing that at the London headquarters of the Mormons, a church, somewhat inaptly named the Deseret, in High Road, South Tottenham, several young men from Utah, rejoicing in the titles of "elders," had recently arrived and begun a campaign to secure converts for the Mormon Church. It came as somewhat of a shock to readers, who always had imagined that a Mormon elder looked like the more solemn of the Smith Brothers on the cough drop boxes, to learn that these particular "elders" were young and allegedly handsome.

What more patent than that these youths should have been dispatched to England to augment the 1922 crop of wives for Salt Lake City? Since England by the last census had 2,000,000 more women than men, and since the unkind phrase "surplus women" had come into wide currency, what more natural than that the Mormon organisers wished to stabilise things by diverting the English surplus toward the Utah deficit?

The Mormon missionaries replied to the newspaper by quoting the law of the United States forbidding polygamy. But Mormonism and a plurality of wives are probably as firmly and consistently connected in the popular mind as prohibition and bootleggers, and an offer on the part of the Mormons to give £200 to any one who could prove that any English girl had been advised to emigrate to Utah passed unnoticed.

And now the agitation has become stronger. Hear what the Rev Sir Genville Cave-Brown-Cave has to say in The Daily Express:

"What are the Mormons after?

"I have been a resident in Salt Lake City for six months, and I answer this question unhesitatingly. The Mormons are out to get English girl converts to Salt Lake City, where they are distributed by the Mormon Church purely for polygamous purposes. This is the only purpose of the Mormon missionaries in England, and they are a deadly peril to every woman they deal with.

"Polygamy is a penal offense in the United States. It is condemned by the Mormon Church and repudiated by the Mormon missionaries in England. I assert, however, that polygamy is rampant in Utah and that it is concealed, as well as pandered to, by the Mormon Church. It always has been. It is today. . . .

"Sixteen hundred girls were landed in Utah while I was resident in that city. Twenty thousand girls have emigrated to Utah in the last ten years. Not one of those girls has ever returned. They never get out of the city.

"How do the girls get there? By virtue of the deadly cunning of the Mormon missionaries, who are trained and sent out to work by a most perfect organisation. . . .

"The girl decides to go to Utah. What is her fate when she arrives there? Once in Utah the girl convert is powerless. Mormons possess the city; and every dweller in the city, from the crossing sweepers to the porters, is a member of the Mormon Church. Escape from the city is impossible. . . .

"I have frequently joined rescue parties that have fought a pitched battle with the Mormons for a woman carried into Salt Lake City. In Texas and Arizona it is not a crime to shoot a Mormon missionary. Here we give them police protection. I have known cow-boys whose women have been 'converted' to devote their lives to shooting Mormon elders on sight."

But even this is outdone by a letter from one described as "a clergyman" to The Daily Express, in which he narrates the following incident.

"I happened to go into a shop to get an umbrella mended. The shop was kept by an old Scotsman from Aberdeen. In the course of our conversation he told me he emigrated several years ago, and, finding his mistake, he had tried to escape several times, but was always captured and sent back. The last time he got to Ogden and again failed in his attempt, for not only the railway, but also the post and telegraph, are owned and completely controlled by the State of Utah!"

And yet it has been said that Scotch are without humor.

Moreux Smiles At Theory That People Live On Moon

When Professor Pickering, the well known American astronomer, startled the world with the recent statement that the moon was inhabited, and Dr. Crommelin in London bestirred a passing tremor with the thought that the lunar body might soon fall on our heads, a little philosopher and quite famous head of the government observatory at Bourges, France, M. Moreux, sat back and smiled. Theodore Moreux happens to be a priest as well as a star gazer.

Pickering announced that his persistent observations of the moon proved there were strange changes on its surface and curious green and dark brown colors which looked suspiciously like vegetation. He ventured the opinion that if there was vegetation there must be animals and perhaps men. The world sat up and listened. People wondered if there could not be earth-moon communication. Europe was stirred along with the rest of the world. All except the Abbe Moreux, who picked up paper and pen, took out his reference books and started to answer Pickering with arguments he believed that worthy American astronomer somehow had overlooked.

According to Moreux, it is very difficult to come to any conclusions about the appearance of the moon, for in studying it there is a change every moment. Both the world and the moon are moving constantly, and the shadows cast by the sun on the moon's surface are changing shape as you look at it. Therefore, a variety of changing shapes appears to the astronomer and he cannot recall any one condition definitely. One can see the same spot on the moon from the same angle only once every 243 days. Therefore a man could spend his life studying one condition and not have time enough to come to a scientific conclusion. Even so, there are slight changes in the moon's position with relation to the earth, which means that an astronomer might never be able to find exactly the same set of conditions which would permit him to make an authoritative statement on the subject. M. Bigourdan, director of the National Bureau of the Hour, which is the government's Paris observatory, adds here that our atmosphere prevents and always has prevented all astronomers from making accurate observations of the moon. Given the agreement that for every scientific fact the same set of conditions must be studied almost an infinite number of times, it is evident, M. Moreux thinks, that Mr. Pickering could not have had sufficient data to back up the statements he made.

The title French astronomer-priest assumes in a lengthy thesis answering the California savant that it is generally admitted that there is practically no atmosphere on the moon; or, at any rate, only enough to depress the mercury in a barometer about three-quarters of a millimeter. That equals about the same amount of air that could be found in a pneumatic tube, which is supposed to be devoid of air. Perhaps microbes could exist in such an atmosphere, but it is extremely doubtful. Further, under these conditions there is nothing to keep the sun's ultra-violet rays from penetrating to the surface of the moon, and there is no cellule which can resist an ultra-violet ray. These rays are so strong that all bacteria perish and all life dies if exposed to them for one minute. The day on the moon is equal to fourteen of our days, so, asks the French observer, how could anything live there subject to fourteen days of steady ultra-violet rays when one minute of such exposure would kill it?

The temperature on the moon is another point on which Moreux believes Pickering seems to have slipped up. It is agreed among scientists that with fourteen days of sunlight, untempered by any appreciable atmosphere, the temperature of the moon's surface would reach at least 392 degrees Fahrenheit of heat, and likewise during the fourteen nights of cold the moon cools down to a point around at least 328 degrees Fahrenheit below zero. What kind of life, he adds, could endure such heat and such cold and adapt itself every fourteen days to a change of over 700 degrees?

World Food Show

The Nations' Food Exhibition, to be held at Olympia, London, from September 6 to 26 this year, is already an assured success, says a London correspondent. From all parts of the world leading manufacturers, whose names are household words, have arranged to provide attractive displays so that the people may see how famous brands are made. A feature will be the free distribution of samples of many kinds.

In every case, the stalls of the world's producers will be arranged in the most interesting and original ways and complete stores will be erected in avenues, while fish supplies, direct each day from the ports, will be shown on marble slabs over which water runs. There is to be first class music all day, the bands of the Grenadiers, Scots and Irish Guards having been engaged.

In addition to trophies, over £1,000 will be given in cash prizes to visitors and there will be cooking demonstrations, labor saving appliances for the kitchen and dining-room, lectures by eminent doctors and other authorities, model factories and working exhibits. The Exhibition is planned to be a fascinating object lesson on the sources from which all principal food supplies are derived.

The Nations' Food Exhibition is to be on a scale never before attempted in any country and the initial cost is estimated at £40,000. The organisers are the International Trade Exhibitions, Ltd., a firm which has held over a hundred exhibitions, and the Trades' Markets and Exhibitions, Ltd. with nearly thirty years' continuous experience. Many foreign governments are making large displays. A little space remains to be disposed of and applications should be made to the Nations' Food Exhibition Offices, Broad Street House, London, E. C. 2.

The Week's Market Report

In their weekly report on the Shanghai Piece-Goods Trade, Messrs. Noel, Murray and Company write as follows:

Cotton.—Changes in Cotton prices have again been very slight this week and yesterday Spot Good Middlings in Liverpool were 10.-77d., May 10.38d. and July 10.26d. Bengals are now quoted 7.55d. and Egyptians 18.25d. In Bombay the market is firmer at Rs. 341 for F. G. Bengals, Rs. 371 for Fine Oomras and Rs. 440 for F. G. Broach. Yesterday, in New York, Spot cotton stood at 18.25 cents, and the forward quotations were 17.82 cents May, 17.35 July, 16.92 October, 16.86 December and 16.68 cents for January. Two fairly heavy cotton failures due to the fall in values, are reported from London.

Home Market.—On the 18th inst., Reuter reported the price of Hornby's 8¼ lbs. Shirtings at 16/3d., which is an advance of 3d. on last quotation, whilst Calvert's 10 lbs. Shirtings are 6d. cheaper at 20/6d.

Local Market.—Thanks to some demand from Newchwang, Korea and the usual northern ports, there has been a little more life and activity in this market and clearances have shown up well although they have not yet appeared in the returns. There is a demand for the cheaper grades of greys and whites and the prices for those cloths have improved and such cargo on arrival is eagerly taken delivery of from the ship's side.

Financial.—The stock of Silver has shrunk about a million taels, the figures now being Tls. 32,644,000 and $29,300,000 of which the native banks are holding Tls. 10,730,000 and $15,740,000.

Yarn.—Further activity in sales of Local Yarn has been seen this week and 10,050 bales are reported to have changed hands for delivery during April, May, June and July. Also the retailers have bought 6,500 bales. Of Indian Yarn 100 bales have been sold.

Auctions.—More Greys, Whites and Blacks were put up this week, bringing the total to 47,621 pieces. There was a better demand and some appreciable advances in the Grey section, but taken all round the Whites were not more than steady. Bleached T-Cloths improved a mace on an average, Jeans are again easier and Turkey Rods irregular, Velvets lost a little in value and White Lawns fetched 3 mace more than at the first auction. Black Italians again went hither and thither, but the majority registered minuses. Black Twills were lower and Venetians barely steady.

ROSENFELD AND SON

Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows in their weekly cotton market report.

China Cotton. Since writing our last report there is nothing further to report which may be interesting or cheerful reading by our friends. The market during the week has remained fairly steady with a slight easiness at the close due to the lack of demand from local Mills and increased arrivals from India.

For the present the market is steady but we still feel that an upward tendency may be expected in the near future.

Yarn.—The market during the past week has been active; both spot and forward have appreciated considerably especially on 20's counts. General demand has been in evidence from Szechuen, Tientsin, Canton, Swatow, Kiangsu, Anhwei, Fukien, Tsingtao and Chefoo. Deliveries are good and will continue considering the bareness of stocks in the interior marts and as a consequence the undertone is healthy.

SPUNT AND COMPANY

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company write as follows in their weekly cotton report.

China Cotton:—Prices throughout the past week continued steady, though very little spot business eventuated, and as the shortage in the supply of the local staple becomes more and more apparent, consumers are applying their attention to both the Indian and American fibre, of which it is expected a sufficiency will be imported as the season advances, to replace the large deficit in the local 1921-22 crop.

A general survey at this time of the world's stocks of raw cotton as against the total world's spindleage, points out that the supply is far too short to meet its requirements and were it not for the fact that not all of the existing spindleage is working full time, prices on the raw material would be every much higher than those now current. However, as referred to in our previous report, we see no startling retrogression in prices in the near future. Tone of the market, Steady.

LACE MARKET

The Industrial Export (China) Company write as follows in their report on the lace market.

There has been practically no demand for Filet Laces during the past week, and the market has been quiet with prices at 1.8½ per mesh for first-quality laces.

HAIRNET MARKET

Messrs. Yannoulatos Bros (China) write as follows in their report on the hairnet market.

Owing to the quietness of hairnet market during the week, the prices of certain sizes have further declined. Stocks of all sizes are moderate, especially of Double Nets. Supplies are coming in regularly. Market steady to firm.

SILK SHIPMENTS

Silk shipped from Shanghai per Canadian Pacific Steamships liner Empress of Russia on February 27, arrived in New York on March 19.

GUARANTEED SCRUBBABLE

W.H.C. SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT

FLAT WALL FINISH

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

1 Imperial Gallon covers about 130 square yards one coat.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."
J. E. SIMPSON, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always obtain the desired result."
F. GERALD BLATTNER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."
J. S. ALEXANDER, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I have prescribed Castoria to families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble."
C. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Have used your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a suitable and efficient laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood."
CHAS. EDWARD GARDINER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."
J. A. BOARMAN, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Chicago Helpless To Halt Criminals, Says Police Chief

(China Press Service)

Chicago, March 23.—Forces of crime now control the city of Chicago, according to General Superintendent of Police C. C. Fitzmorris who told representatives of various Civic organisations that law enforcement was being made impossible.

"Chicago is on the edge of chaos," he declared.

Chief Justice Scanlan of the Criminal Court corroborated the police chief, while the State's Attorney declared that the statement of Fitzmorris was absolutely true when he said that the organised band of criminals which laughs in the face of justice has its own judges and lawyers.
